

Linell is a seasoned aviation professional with 18 years of experience, currently serving as the Northeast Aviation Market Sector Lead at AECOM. She has worked both on the agency side at the Philadelphia International Airport and on the consulting side, ascending from an airport planner to a regional practice lead. In her current role, she oversees a regional team of over 70 aviation-dedicated professionals while managing responsibilities such as establishing and implementing strategy, business development, client relationship building, and staff recruiting, retention, and development.